Sheriff, D.A. Told Slot Machines Back in Richmond

Slot machines are back in Contra Costa County.

Channing Jones, a resident of Lafayette, reported this fact yesterday in a letter to Sheriff James Long and District Attorney Francis Collins. Jones saw the one-armed bandits in action at the Richmond Country Club Wednesday noon.

The playing of slot machines has been illegal for some years and the mere possession of the devices was banned by state law as of July.

The following is a letter sent to Sheriff Long, with a similar one going to District Attorney Francis Collins:

"Dear Sheriff Long:
"I was particularly pleased to see the bill passed outlawing the use of slot machines in the State of California. It is my understanding that this law applies to all types of establishments, including private clubs.

"I was very much chagrined today to note that the Richmond Country Club has decided to break the law and place slot machines in their establishment once again.

"As sheriff of Contra Costa County, I knew you would be interested in receiving this information and I feel certain that you will do whatever is necessary to enforce the law as it is written."

MACHINES

"I saw six slots—from 5 to 50 cent machines—near the bar in the club," Jones told the Sun. "There was also another kind of machine that played off in golf balls.

"This disturbed me because I knew that they were absolutely illegal. I asked the cashier and other employees 'how come and where did they come from.' They said they did not know. It was interesting because the patrons showed a considerable reluctance to play them."

OPEN TO PUBLIC

The Richmond Club is open to the public for lunch and to golfers, as well as to members. Jones said he has been lunching there for several years.

"I feel that private citizens must take action if we are to get good government. Certainly gambling and its accompanying corruption of public officials does not make for good government."

Following this report, a newspaper reporter visited the club and played the slot machines.

Orinda Rotarians Have Busy Week

Orinda Rotarians have had a busy schedule this week, with their regular luncheon session Wednesday and a ladies night program of dinner and dancing last night.

The noon guest speakers were Inspectors Ainsworth and Olsen of the Oakland police force who gave an illustrated talk on the subject of fictitious and valid checks, titled "Check and Re-Check." Bill Duncan was in charge of the program.

Last night's social plans for Rotarians and Rotary-Annes included a cocktail party at the Clarence E. Betz home followed by a pot-luck dinner and dancing at Orinda Park Pool. Ron Anderson was in charge of arrangements for this event.

At last week's regular session, guest speaker was C. F. De Lano, executive vice president of the Golden Gate Restaurant Association. A film, "American Heritage in Hospitality," showing the preparation and serving of foods all over the nation was shown by De Lano.

He also revealed many interesting details about the food business, including the facts that 60 million meals a day are prepared in this country, that eleven billion dollars a year is spent on food in the United States and that food dispensing is the third largest retail business in existence.

Rotary President Frank Olsen announced that Orinda Rotarians and their wives will have their annual barbecue at Carroll's Ranch on September 8. Ron Anderson is in charge of planning for this affair.

Hunters in New Home

Mr. and Mrs. Don Hunter, Phil and Jim have recently moved into their lovely new home on Sunrise Hill.

ACALANES HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT BUDGET of $629,331 for the 1950-51 school year was approved last week, without any opposition or protest being registered. Seated here at the budget hearing are four members of the district's Board of Trustees—left to right, Bill Freeman, M. H. Stanley, president of the board and pioneer member; Dr. Ralph Hall and J. F. Chaddock. The fifth member, Carl Newbury, was away on vacation. Instruction is the largest item in the budget, $248,000 having been allocated for it.

Orinda Branch Holds Luau Sept. 23 at Vad Jeltons' to Aid Children's Hospital

Lady divers in a flower-filled pool, local matrons in hula skirts (we happen to know that two of them — of the skirts, that is — are pretty well moth-eaten), swaying Hawaiian music and swaying Orinda dancers — all are on the agenda for the luau to be given September 23 by the Orinda branch of the Children's Hospital.

Food, too! The ceremonial pigs will be roasted on the premises — the Vad Jeltons' premises in Happy Valley, where the party is to take place. Long tables beautifully decorated with flowers flown directly from Honolulu will be placed in the gardens where authentic tidbits from Hawaii will be served.

ISLAND MUSIC

Island music and entertainers will put everyone in a festive mood, and anyone wishing to join the entertainers with a bit of Orinda hula may do so. (We trust that no one will feel inclined to join the water ballet to be put on by the Athens Club maidens.)

Tickets are going fast because everyone wants to go to a gay gathering after the Santa Clara-Cal game. Too bad the Jeltons' estate isn't an acre larger — then there'd be room for everyone who wants to revive memories of a recent trip or build hopes for a future one.

ANNUAL BENEFIT

"An Evening in Hawaii" it should be called — it isn't though — just the Annual Fall Benefit of the Orinda Branch of the Children's Hospital, because the profits from this fun Saturday night, September 23, will go toward caring for the tots from Contra Costa County who need nursing, supplies and equipment. And that's important — always.

Mrs. Stewart Tompkins is luau chairman. Mrs. Stephen Jensen is in charge of decorations; Mrs. Arthur Ochen, tickets; Mrs. Fred Goodwin, refreshments, and Mrs. James Small, the water ballet.

Members of the Orinda Branch are the Mesdames Ted Alquist, Theodore Beckett, Robert Bolman, Charles Camp, Edmund Cardin, Carl Dailey, Frank Dunn, Frank Fee, William Foster, Fred Goodwin, Vad Jelton, Stephen Jensen, Ernest Kahl, Emmett Kilpatrick, Woodburn Lamb, Philip Ray, Quentin Reynolds, Arthur Scheu, Dan Sheldon, James Small, Roger Stark, Thomas Telfer, Stewart Tompkins, Richard Week and Lyle York.

Miner Rd. Work Gets Board O.K.

Resurfacing and general improvement of Miner Road at a cost of $2,000 was authorized Monday by the County Board of Supervisors.

Orinda C. of C. Will Publish New Directory

Orinda Chamber of Commerce's preparations for its business directory of the Orinda area are nearing completion, according to Clarence Betz, secretary of the chamber and chairman of the committee planning the directory.

This will be the first complete business directory issued for the area; a former directory, put out by the old Better Business Bureau prior to formation of the chamber, was a partial guide.

Next meeting of chamber directors will be next Thursday, at noon, at Casa Orinda.

Let Sewer Bids On Orinda Estates

Bids were opened on Orinda's LID No. 13, Orinda Estates area, at last week's meeting of the Central Contra Costa County Sanitary District directors board meeting, with P. & J. Artukovich, Inc., getting the contract. This firm won over three other bidders with a low figure of $42,180.

The board of directors was scheduled to open bids received for LID 21, Moraga-Glorietta area, at the session held last night as the SUN was going to press.

Funds To Be Used for New Fire House; State OK's Crossroads Traffic Control

Two major improvements for the Orinda Fire District were being speeded from the planning stage to hoped-for early accomplishment this week. With completion bound to have a direct bearing on lowering of insurance rates in the future, the projects are:

1.—Orinda's new fire house, to be located at Moraga Highway and Orchard Road.

2.—An auxiliary control for the traffic light system at the Crossroads, whereby fire apparatus will be assured of safe and non-stop passage across Mt. Diablo Boulevard from the Village side to the Moraga side.

Meeting in special session last night, as the SUN went to press, was

Birthday Breakfast Marks 4 Years of Real Estate Board

Members of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board celebrated the fourth anniversary of the Multiple Listing System at a Mart birthday breakfast Monday at the Las Palmas Hotel in Walnut Creek.

Past President Bill Anderson presented a resume of the formation, history and progress of the Mart at the session. Special honor was paid the "old timers" who were active in the formation of the Mart, including: Al Geldermann, Frank Marshall, Cappy Ricks, Ted Schreiber, W. E. Wallace, Larry Haines, Ida Smith, Steve Forbrag, Clark Anderson and Ray Taylor.

COOPERATIVE MOVE

Formation of the Mart was a cooperative move inaugurating the multiple listing system which enables board members to give a comprehensive picture of the county really field to board personnel and to both buyers and sellers.

There are 49 broker offices which include 90 salesmen in the Mart at the present time. It has gained recognition as one of the best operated by any of the smaller real estate boards in California.

BUS TOURS

Breakfast meetings are held each week at which members discuss the current phases of real estate. Bus tours for members are conducted each Monday, one covering the Walnut Creek-Pleasant Hill-Danville area and the other covering Lafayette and Orinda. Through these weekly inspection trips, members acquaint themselves with the properties available and get on-the-spot knowledge of their listings.

Stan Massie of Massie-Underwood Realtors is current president of the board, which was led last year by Lawrence Wallace of Lafayette's Wallace Realty Company. Helen Haines of Haines Realty is president of the Women's Division.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Educational courses are held by the Contra Costa Board to help its people keep up with the trends of real estate. Social activities planned by the group have also been voted a success in this cooperative venture.

Success of the multiple listing plan is evidenced by the $10,808-848.66 in sales made through this system during the past four years. The year ending August 1, 1950, has been reported the banner year with sales volume of $3,474,605.

the Board of Fire Commissioners, which consists of Warren Harrold, president; Capt. Harry Oakley, secretary; Bert Dawson and Gilbert Earle. Plans for the new fire house were expected to be furthered at this meeting. Paul Myer is legal adviser and acting secretary to the board, and Clarence Betz is the board's tax consultant.

BOND ELECTION

Speaking for the board, Earle reported earlier in the week that Architect Jack Buchter was still working on the plans for Orinda's second fire house, and that holding of a bond issue election, necessary for obtaining of funds for construction, would take place after the architect's plans are completed.

"It's still too early to know just when a bond issue election will be called," Earle told the SUN, "but at this week's meeting of the board we hope to be able to determine more accurately some of the details involved."

TRAFFIC CONTROL

The traffic light auxiliary control will operate on a delayed-time basis, Earle explained. When an alarm is received at the present fire house in the Village, the Crossroads lights are to be controlled so that when the fire engines arrive there the red light remains on for a certain time, and the green light remains on for the crossing traffic.

UNHAMPERED

This will allow fire apparatus to speed unhampered to a fire on the Moraga side of the highway.

Permission to install this auxiliary control has recently been granted to the fire commissioners by the State Division of Highways. Last night's special meeting had on its agenda the negotiating of a contract or purchase order for the necessary equipment.

Earle said that reports to the effect that action toward this new traffic light control resulted from a Crossroads accident last year were in error. Actually, the commissioners had been studying the problem and seeking State Highways Division permission for some months before, he said; the accident, in which an eastbound passenger vehicle collided with a southbound fire truck and in which a fireman was injured, served to emphasize the need for an auxiliary control.

The equipment for the auxiliary traffic control will have to be specially manufactured, Earle pointed out. He added that it is hoped to have the equipment installed fairly soon.

THREE NEEDS

Primary purpose of a bond issue, Earle said, would be to raise money for three needs—building of the new fire house now being planned, purchase of equipment (two trucks) for the new fire house and acquiring additional land for a third fire house.

Accomplishment of these three steps would materially reduce insurance rates. These three developments (with the Sleepy Hollow area as the general location of a third fire house) have been recommended by the Board of Fire Underwriters.

PRESENT STATION STAYS

"One question which a lot of people are asking is: Will the new fire house at Moraga Highway and Orchard Road deplete the equipment at the present station?" Earle stated.

"The answer is: Definitely, no! The present station, its equipment and men will be maintained.

"The new fire house will have its own equipment and its own personnel—meaning that new equipment will have to be bought and that new men will have to be hired."

Equipment at the present fire house in the Village includes four trucks, Earle said.

Amount of the bond issue for which the voters' approval will be sought has not yet been determined, according to Earle. He reiterated that details relating to the bond issue would be considerably clarified when the architectural plans have been completed.

FEDERAL LOAN

Architectural fees are covered by a $1,200 loan from the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Washington, D. C. After construction starts the Federal loan must be repaid.

According to Architect Buchter, the new fire house will be a modern one-story building of wood frame, stucco and brick, in ranch-type character, and will contain complete living quarters for men and room for three engines. It will be erected on approximately two acres of ground, and is being designed with the idea of future expansion.

San Pablo Gambling Opens -- Then Closes

Contra Costa Wonderland isn't the name of the spot or the community, but "curiouser and curiouser" is what Alice of Lewis Carroll's famed fantasy might say again if she found herself there.

For the following news article, reprinted in full from Page 1 of Tuesday's San Francisco Chronicle, appears against a time-background in which:

1.—Gambling supposedly is and for some time has been illegal in Contra Costa County.

2.—The recent grand jury report charging widespread gambling throughout the county and condemning Sheriff James N. Long and District Attorney Francis W. Collins for failure to crack down on it is still reverberating.

3.—The district attorney has commented "No comment" regarding the grand jury report.

4.—The sheriff has said of the grand jury's charges of gambling and its criticism of him and the district attorney: "That's the part I don't agree with."

5.—Chief Special Agent George Griffin of Attorney General Fred N. Howser's office, who has been in Contra Costa County on assignment by Howser following the grand jury report, has stated, in connection with the report and with his investigation in the county, "we're primarily interested in the source of the information that this office wouldn't move." (The grand jury stated it had been informed by "reliable sources" that a request for help from the Attorney General's office "would receive little or no consideration.")

HERE'S THE ARTICLE

So much for the setting. Here is the complete Chronicle article, written by Dick Hyer:

"San Pablo, little Contra Costa County bayshore town, boasts probably the fanciest gambling enterprise to be found in the Bay Region these summer evenings.

"It is a full-rigged casino operating in the '49 Club on San Pablo Avenue and its management is also pretty fancy.

"The entrepreneurs include William M. Pechart, for years the racket boss of the county; his long-time partner, David M. Kessel, and Walter Parman, former Tahoe operator and associate of William Graham, the big-time Nevada gambler.

"Further, according to authorities in neighboring communities, Elmer (Bones) Remmer has a piece of the place by virtue of his extremely useful political connections.

"In the three or four weeks of its existence, word of the '49 Club casino has spread up and down the state and even into Nevada, causing considerable astonishment in the gambling industry.

OTHER PLACES SHUT

"Its members point out that election year 'heat' has driven virtually everybody else to cover (or to Nevada) and even such traditionally wide-open places as Jackson are closed down tight.

"They view with interest, also, the fact that Attorney General Fred N. Howser, who has been sending his agents far and wide during his waning term in office, appears to have overlooked Contra Costa County.

"The '49 Club casino has been running seven nights a week and at present may be open during the day, too. The management expected to expand operations in that fashion.

"The front for the enterprise is a bar and dining room, presided over by a man who calls himself Lonny Gurlanni.

"The gambling room contains a regulation dice table, a roulette wheel and a '21' game.

"When recently inspected, the place had about 60 customers, but is big enough to accommodate a couple of hundred and a lot more equipment.

"On this particular tour, Parman and Kessel were around, but not Pechart or Remmer."

The day after the Chronicle broke the story, other newspapermen immediately went into action—and the '49 Club closed down. Here is a report by the Knave in yesterday's Tribune:

"Acting Police Chief Loren E. Davis, egged on by inquisitive newspapermen, made an inspection of the '49 Club and found it 'clean as a whistle.' There were four bare walls. The ankle-deep carpet was still on the floor. But there was nothing else in sight—no roulette wheel, no dice table.

"Dist. Atty. Francis W. Collins, who had likewise heard no advance rumblings of anything doing on the San Pablo gambling front, said he wouldn't permit operations such as the '49 Club's casino.

"Before the heat went on and the Pechart casino became just another empty room, it was reported that it made its play for the trans-Bay traffic, discouraging the home town trade.

"But evidence of ample patronage was reported by an observer who counted 35 cars in the parking lot adjacent to the '49 Club, but found only 12 persons at the bar when he got inside.

Add Performers to 'Meet Your People'

Mrs. Theodore Lassagne and her son Arthur of Lafayette have been added to the cast of "Meet Your People," the musical satire to be presented at the Acalanes High School, August 24-26, for the benefit of the Mt. Diablo Child Therapy Center.

Also added this week are Lyman Stoddard, Jr., Don Judd, Lee Russell and Warren Swing, who compose the Walnut Creek Lions Club Quartet. In addition to singing quartet numbers, they will appear as performers in other scenes.

WORM TURNS

Grover LaVelle has been cast in the part of Harry in the skit entitled "The Worm Turns," which includes Reuben Tuttle, Dean Springer and Franz Muller.

Several members of the cast have had professional experience. Louise Welty, a newcomer to Alamo, who will be seen in two interesting interpretations, spent seven years with the First Theatre of Monterey, during which period she also taught in the children's theater there. She also spent several seasons doing comedy song and dance routines in various shows throughout the U. S.

PROFESSIONAL SINGER

Carol Peters of Walnut Creek, who will be presented in some unusual interpretations, has been singing professionally for several years and has appeared in many radio and television shows in the Bay Area.

Frances Groves of Orinda is a music student at College of the Pacific but has sung in many public appearances and last season was a featured soloist with the Stockton Symphony Orchestra.

REHEARSALS ON

All the ingredients necessary for a good evening's entertainment are contained in the forthcoming production of "Meet Your People."

David Holstorm, attorney, is treasurer of the project.

FBI Official Tells Draft Signup Rules

Harry M. Kimball, special agent in charge of the San Francisco office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, this week urged all eligible men to comply fully with provisions of the Selective Service Act of 1948.

In discussing provisions of the act and affirmative steps eligible men may take to avoid delinquency, Kimball said that a violation of the Selective Service Act of 1948 is a very serious matter. A willful violator may be subjected to stringently penalties including imprisonment up to five years, or a fine as high as $10,000, or both.

POINTERS

Kimball said that recently J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, had suggested, for the benefit of those not familiar with the requirements, observance of the following:

(1) Register promptly; (2) fill out and return your questionnaire promptly; (3) keep your local board advised of your correct mailing address; (4) report for examination and induction when so ordered; (5) report changes in your family status or occupation which may have a bearing on your classification; (6) always carry your registration certificate and classification notice on your person; (7) if you have made an honest mistake, talk it over with your local board.

REQUIRED TO REGISTER

All male persons residing in the United States or its possessions between the ages of 18 and 26 are required to register. Persons becoming eighteen must register within five days after their 18th birthday.

Local Board 30, at 629 Macdonald Avenue, Richmond, serves the area including Lafayette and Orinda.

EBMUD Gives Salary Increase To Its Employees

Salary adjustments for employees of the East Bay Municipal Utility District, which became effective August 1, were announced by Francis E. Boyd, president of the board of directors.

General effect of the board action was to increase salary ranges by three per cent. Individual salaries were adjusted to the new ranges according to length of service.

In making the announcement, Boyd pointed out that the adjustments were made as a result of the district's continuing salary survey, which is carried on in order to maintain conformity between district salaries and those of other related public agencies and private industries in the area.

Although the district is continually adjusting salary classifications upward and downward to conform to prevailing rates, Boyd pointed out that this is the first general increase in salary ranges since October, 1948, when a similar three per cent upward adjustment was granted.

New Kind of 'Lottery'—for Deer Hunt

California hunters who want a crack at one of the 800 deer to be removed from the former Mineral King National Refuge have just been issued the Fish and Game Commission rules which will govern the lottery hunt.

Licensed hunters must mail applications to the commission's temporary field headquarters at Visalia, bearing a postmark not earlier than August 24. The drawing to select 960 eligibles will be held at Visalia in the afternoon of August 28.

MUST HAVE LICENSE

Application forms will be available at Division of Fish and Game offices and license agencies. A valid 1950-51 hunting license must be submitted with each mail application, together with the $1 fee.

The special hunting season was set between September 16 and October 15 after local sportsmen, landowners and state and national agencies agreed the refuge was overpopulated with deer. No more than 800 deer of both sexes will be removed this year to allow the over-browsed range to recover.

CHECKING STATIONS

During eight periods of three and four days each, up to 120 hunters may shoot one buck or one doe. Checking stations will be maintained in the area during the 30-day season.

As each hunter's application is received at the Visalia license office, it will be serially numbered, and a numbered token corresponding to the application number dropped in a selection cage. One token will be drawn, and the 959 consecutive numbers following the selected number will be the season's eligible hunters.

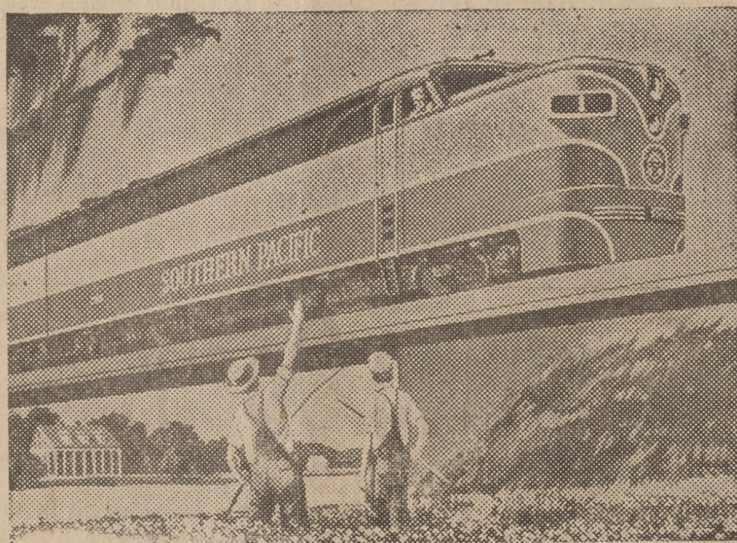

Friends who wish to hunt together may mail their applications in one envelope. Their individual applications will be given consecutive serial numbers, assuring their chances of hunting together in the same period, if such numbers are among those chosen. No more than two hunters may mail applications in one envelope.

Kids' Pet Show Funds Buy Gifts For Child Patients

Proceeds of last month's children's "Pet Show and Circus" in Orinda—$5.09—will be used for the purchase of birthday gifts for child patients at Weimar Sanitarium.

This was decided by the youngsters recently. After the children announced their decision, Mrs. George Matey stated that any group, children or adults, that wish to raise money for Weimar can get necessary information from her by phoning her at Orinda 2173.

Already purchased as birthday gifts for the young patients are two toy trucks and two dolls. A fifth gift was to be bought, also.

The children who planned and put on the show were Susan Allen, Diane Nuffer and Peggy Kalbfleisch. Other youngsters joined in the fun, cooperating to make the affair thoroughly enjoyable.

Immediately after the "Pet Show and Circus" the children stated they would give the proceeds to Children's Hospital, but they later changed their plans and decided on birthday gifts for young Weimar patients.

DON'T BET YOUR LIFE

"You bet your life when you take a chance on the mechanical condition of your car." That statement is by Commissioner Clifford E. Peterson of the California Highway Patrol, in warning motorists that neglected mechanical defects may lead to death or tragedy. "Last year in California there were 4,757 fatal and injury traffic accidents in which some mechanical defect was determined by investigating officers," he declared.

Greeting Service O.K.'d for Orinda

Orinda Chamber of Commerce directors have endorsed the idea of "The Greeters" service like that now in operation in Lafayette.

Under this service, new residents will be called on and given a letter of welcome from the chamber and cards introducing them to local merchants and entitling them to gifts from the merchants.

In this way newcomers will feel more at home in Orinda, it is believed, and will also become acquainted with local businesses.

Relatives Visit Mrs. A. Combs

Mrs. Arthur Combs of Beechwood Drive recently had as her guests for a week her sister-in-law, Mrs. Loretta Brown of Long Beach and Mrs. Brown's daughter, Francis.

During that week Mrs. Combs gave a tea in honor of Mrs. Brown. Present, in addition to the hostess and Mrs. Brown, were the Mesdames Lowell Johnson, Rodney McCallister, Robert Stierling and Philip Cozad.

Another recent visitor at the Combs home was Mrs. Arthur Combs' mother-in-law, Mrs. George Combs of Long Beach, who stayed several days while on her way east.

White Due in Court Next Wednesday

Next step in the preliminaries to trial of his divorce suit against his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Hallford White, 34, is scheduled for 2 p.m. next Wednesday for C. Wadsworth White, 37, well-known Orinda and Oakland attorney.

That is the time set by Judge Clifford Thomson in Walnut Creek for hearing for White on Mrs. White's charge of battery. A few weeks ago White pleaded not guilty to the charge when he appeared in Justice Court.

STORIES DIFFER

Mrs. White claimed that her husband beat her when she found him in her Orinda home at 1 Las Vegas Road. White has stated that he was there to get some personal belongings and that Mrs. White started to kick him as he went out the door. "I put my foot out to block the kick. She must have barked her shin on my shoe," he said. "Then she leaped on my back as I was trying to walk down the steps loaded down with clothing, so I just turned and dropped her off on the lawn."

CUSTODY OF CHILDREN

Mrs. White has been granted permission to remain at the family home by Superior Judge Homer W. Patterson, who has also awarded her temporary custody of the two children and temporary alimony of $100 a month. White is suing her for divorce on grounds of cruelty.

Camp or Hotel, It Was a Real Success; St. Mary's Plans Bigger Season in '51

After six weeks' operation, with an average weekly attendance of nearly 150, the St. Mary's College summer camp for boys closed its 1950 season last Saturday.

The camp, sponsored by the college, is supervised each year by Brother Albert, athletic moderator and former president of the college. In charge of activities this summer was Thomas Conlan, assisted by younger brothers. Counseling and conducting of evening activities at the camp were by summer school students.

FROM 8 TO 13

The boys who attended the camp sessions ranged in age from 8 to 13. So well organized is the camp that Student Counselor Bob Whitlick observed: "It's not a camp—it's a hotel."

DORMITORIES

Basis for such a remark are these facts: The boys, two to a room, slept in dormitories; they ate in the dining room, and the food was prepared by the regular St. Mary's chefs. So, in that sense, the lads really weren't camping.

But hiking and nature study were part of the outdoor activities enjoyed by the boys. So maybe it was a camp.

Whatever you decide, the boys had a good time, learned a lot and were close to nature.

ATHLETIC FACILITIES

Added attractions were the use of the college athletic facilities.

So successful has this year's season been that supervisors and counselors are planning a more extensive program for 1951, including a possible 10-week period instead of six weeks and the conducting of classes in subjects in which definite interest is shown by the boys.

County to Have Float in Parade On Centennial

Preparing for an outstanding Contra Costa County parade display at the San Francisco observance of California's centennial on September 9, Contra Costa County Native Sons and Daughters today announced the retention of Director Frank L. Soria of San Francisco to supervise and assemble physical equipment that will be utilized and to school participants.

Soria has already come to Martinez and is located at the offices of the Contra Costa County Development Association, 838 Escobar Street.

Soria has had years of experience in the directorial field, especially in pageantry and allegory. He has conducted and directed pageantry displays in Boston, Philadelphia and other large cities. His most recent California work was the Shasta Cavalcade.

The eight parlors of Native Sons and Native Daughters, who have taken over sponsorship of Contra Costa's participation in the centennial observance, have organized a centennial observance committee headed by Ernest Arata of Antioch as chairman.

"We have obtained the services of a recognized director and we have the outline of an allegorical display evolved by C. A. Ricks of Martinez that will be spectacular and interesting," Arata said today. "The combination of an outstanding director and a commanding display is certain to make Contra Costa's contribution one of the most commanding of the centennial parade."

High School Bond Sale Next Monday

First step in the sale of the new Aacalanes High School District bond issue will take place Monday at 11 a.m., when the Board of Supervisors will receive sealed bids for purchase of $499,000 of the bonds.

This represents the first batch of the $900,000 bond issue approved by the district voters last March by a 3 to 1 majority. The 499 bonds of $1,000 denomination each will raise the district's bonded indebtedness to the legal maximum, according to County Auditor-Controller D. M. Teeter.

Purpose of the bonds is to obtain money for necessary expansion of the high school district, including purchase of land, building alterations and other items.

Rev. Winkley at Church Sunday

In the absence of both Rev. Harry E. Shaner and Bishop George A. Miller, Rev. John W. Winkley will occupy the pulpit of Lafayette Community Methodist Church Sunday. His message at the 11 a.m. service will be "A Faith That Satisfies." Mrs. Edwin C. Floyd will be soloist.

Rev. and Mrs. Shaner are vacationing at Westwood, and Bishop Miller is also away on vacation.

Readers of "The Knave" column in the Oakland Tribune will recognize the name of Rev. Winkley as that of one of the regular contributors.

Captain Sandford Sez:

IT IS AGAIN MY PRIVILEGE to make a few remarks commending that splendid group of child horseback riders known as "El Caballo Volante." It was a heart-warming experience to be at the top of Mount Diablo to see 48 children between the ages of nine and sixteen conclude the first part of their 1950 Mount Diablo Trail Ride.

The group of local child riders, "The Prancing Hooves," was represented by five contestants. All of the five finished successfully and one, little Linda Pierce, aged nine, won a third prize. Heartly congratulations to all these plucky children.

WAR IS A VERY HARD TASK MASTER. Perhaps its greatest harshness is wished upon the mothers and wives of those whose loyal service places them in grave jeopardy. As an old soldier myself, I am mightily disturbed by the lack of confidence statesmen and others place in our military and naval leaders, and sometimes by too much confidence being placed in leaders who have not displayed much true military ability.

A good military or naval leader must of necessity be a dictator and he cannot get any true assistance from the wild yammering of the household admirals and generals. I feel that newspaper reporters should definitely be eliminated from the battle zones and even prevented from making statements and prophecies about the possible movements of fighting forces.

Such loose statements in the past have given information and comfort to the enemy and have on occasion been the means of losing many valuable lives. In short, our naval and military leaders should be perfectly competent to give us the necessary data at the proper time.

THE OTHER EVENING while visiting with friends, a married lady and her mother, a widow, the conversation turned to tidiness. It seems that I sometimes leave my socks on the little table near the telephone. Now this, as you can readily realize, is a grave offense. In fact, it is very nearly as bad as borrowing a saddle.

However, I had a staunch defender in the matter because the older lady, the widow, finally entered the conversation with this philosophic statement.

"Give me a good man around the house and he can leave his dog-gone socks anywhere he likes."

Time Out From Budget—Supervisors Study Garbage, Industry, Ride-Trails

With the August 18 (10 a.m.) public hearing on Contra Costa County's tentative record budget of $17,311,101 only one week off, several facts emerge from the many words about the county's proposed 1950-51 financial setup. Among these facts are:

1.—The budget contains no provision for a $2,000,000 county hospital or for a new county office building in Richmond—because applications for federal-state aid were turned down.

2.—There is no provision for a $240,000 county medical center.

HIGHWAYS AND BRIDGES

3.—Lopped off from the proposed budget is $432,500 for highways and bridges, according to County Auditor-Controller D. M. Teeter.

4.—A provision for $75,000 for a new 30-bed ward at the county hospital was removed before O.K. of the tentative budget by the supervisors.

THAT TAX RATE HIKE

5.—The proposed budget totals $1,240,000 less than had been sought by the various department heads—but Supervisor Jack Cummings has stated that by lopping off $1,300,000 from the budget the supervisors cut the tax rate hike from 48 cents to 23.4 cents. And that 23.4-cent increase, Cummings says, is due to relief costs being returned to the county by the state (23 cents) and to the necessary cost of the county library system (4 mills).

Anyway, all these points and perhaps many more may come up again at the public hearing August 18 in the Hall of Records in Martinez.

GARBAGE DUMP

In response to a letter read Monday at the Board of Supervisors meeting the Concord city council has been notified that a new garbage dump was recently opened between Martinez and Avon, operated by Gardner and Olney.

The Concord city council had written the supervisors that it had received "numerous and repeated inquiries" from residents of that area as to where garbage could be dumped, and the city fathers suggested that the county make a dumping ground available for the area.

INDUSTRIAL ZONES

That argument about whether further residence construction should be prohibited in industrial zones is still flaring. Latest development is letters from Stauffer Chemical Company and Richmond Rock Wool Company recommending revision of the Master Zoning Ordinance to ban such construction.

As with previous communications to the same general effect, the Board of Supervisors has referred the suggestions to the planning commission.

Equestrians and hikers in this county—and there are plenty of 'em—paid special attention this week to yesterday's meeting of the State Assembly Riding and Hiking Trails Interim Committee, in the State Building in San Francisco. Notice of this meeting was ready at Monday's meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

RIDING-HIKING TRAILS

This Assembly committee has been studying the long-pending plans and suggestions for a state-length series of connecting riding and hiking trails. Naturally, Contra Costa horsemen and hikers and their various organizations are eager to have trails go through proper setting in this county.

NEW PHONE RATE HIKE?

Also read at the Monday board meeting was official notice from the State Public Utilities Commission that the phone company's application for another rate increase is due for public hearing the latter part of next month.

Hearings are scheduled for September 27, 28 and 29, starting at 10 a.m. each day, in the commission courtroom, State Building, San Francisco.

Wide Loss From Forest Fire Told

It's the many-sided loss from a forest fire that should make citizens cautious of this destructive evil, emphasizes Woodbridge Metcalf, associate professor of forestry on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

When fire strikes, trees and seedlings up to 25 years of age may be killed by the flames. This means a burnt-over area is set back from 10 to 25 years in its growth of timber, depending upon the age of the trees. This factor may be much more important than the immediate financial loss.

In addition, soil loses some of its humus when fire passes over. Erosion increases. Water supplies diminish. There is no cover for game and so hunting is spoiled for the remainder of the year and usually for several years.

A burnt-over area is no good for camping and vacationing. A drop in business takes place in towns close to destroyed timber. In some

County Gets $211,159 From Highway Tax Fund

Distribution of $50,753,578 from the Highway Users Tax Fund was announced by State Controller Thomas H. Kuchel. Counties of the state received $11,365,527 from the fund, Kuchel said. The distribution was for the quarter ending June 30. In the county distribution, Contra Costa County's total share amounted to $211,159.86.

State Aids 5790 Vets Study-26 In Contra Costa

The State of California gave financial assistance to 5,790 World War II veterans who attended school during the spring term of 1950, it is reported by the State Department of Veterans Affairs. The total expenditure involved was $1,438,215.32.

Of this amount, $8,479.64 was estimated as having been spent for education of 26 veterans studying in Contra Costa County—25 at St. Mary's and one elsewhere.

The total enrollment figure represents a 56 per cent increase over the spring, 1949, semester, when the state educational assistance program helped 3,835 veterans at a cost of $923,423.

Seven Seized Slot Machines Can't Talk So Their Loneliness Is Police Problem

Mute and inglorious, seven "one-armed bandits" were being held by Richmond police this week while the police tried to locate their owner. Little optimism prevailed, however, that the owner would try to claim the confiscated slot machines.

Taken in the first California raid under the new state anti-slot machine law, which became effective July 15, the slots were nabbed in an old building at 603 South 14th Street. The officers seized the illicit machines under a search warrant issued by Police Judge Clare D. Horner, and acted on a tip given them some time ago by Jack Newell, owner of the building.

RENTED QUARTERS

Newell reported that he had rented the quarters to a J. T. Winslow shortly after World War II for storage purposes, and that Winslow had mailed him regular $35 monthly rent-payment money orders from cities throughout the country. He had not seen Winslow since the rental transaction occurred, he said.

The raid and seizure were performed by Police Inspector George Jones and Frank Marcollo, investigator for District Attorney Francis W. Collins.

CENTRAL FIGURES

Naturally, Winslow is the central figure in the case, and police and the district attorney's office are attempting to locate him.

The seven illicit slot machines are of two types. Two of the "one-armed bandits" are standard size, for five and 50-cent chances, and five are the counter variety that once helped decorate ice cream parlors and drug stores.

EXPENSIVE TOOLS

In the old building were also a lot of slot machine parts, expensive repair tools and the case of a standard-size machine, minus "innards."

According to District Attorney Collins, Newell cleared himself of liability by reporting the presence of the slots in the quarters he had rented to Winslow. Question of the moment seemed to be: Where's Winslow? The seven lonely and now outmoded slot machines couldn't say.

Lions See Film About America

An unusual and thought provoking movie was the feature of the Orinda Lions Club meeting held Wednesday night.

Secured by Program Chairman Jerry McKinley, the film was a patriotic and educational production dealing with a small town editor's answer to a college paper editorial criticizing American ways of life, written by the latter's son. Titled "A Letter to a Rebel," the advantages of American democratic living were filmed in picturization of the letter.

One of the highest percentages of membership to attend the Orinda Lions meetings was reported at this week's session, with credit accorded Lions Club President Don Hunter for the interest shown.

Then Mrs. Nichelmann and her daughter went to Guatemala, where they visited Antigua and Chichicastenango.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him" (Lamentations 3:24). This Golden Text for the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Soul" will be read in Christian Science churches on Sunday, August 13. The sermon will include the following citations:

The Bible: "And, behold, one came and said unto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life? And he said unto him, 'Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments'" (Mathew 19: 16, 17).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Science of being reveals man as perfect, even as the Father is perfect, because the Soul, or Mind, of the spiritual man is God, the divine Principle of all being, and because this real man is governed by Soul instead of sense, by the law of Spirit, not by the so-called laws of matter" (p. 302).

Rev. Mathews Conducts Third Orinda Service

Rev. Godfrey Mathews conducted his third service at the Orinda Community Church Sunday. He gave a scholarly address on the theme that Christianity, the religion of a minority, taught the creation, the preservation and the redemption of the soul.

He told a delightful story to the children about a prison cat that stood by the guard's side every morning for roll call, then climbed up and then down the prison wall, swam the moat around the wall, spent the morning in the fields, swam back, climbed and descended the wall and was by the guard's side again for noonday roll call.

Kenneth Courtright sang the beautiful solo, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings," accompanied by Mrs. Ed Turk on the organ.

This Sunday the Rev. Mathews' sermon topic will be "The Spirit of Gain and the Spirit of Service."

Your Garden

Here Are Several Tips Which Will Help You in Plans for Your Vegetable Garden

By BERT WRIGHT

HERE ARE a number of observations on vegetable gardening which I have compiled over a number of years. With apologies to brides, they include "something old, something new, something I borrowed, and something I already knew."

1. HEAVIER TOTAL yields of lima beans can be obtained when the plants are spaced from four to eight inches apart in rows rather than two to three inches.

2. BEST CROP of carrots for storing is produced from seed planted between June 1 and July 1. The roots will not be overgrown when harvested.

3. A SECOND APPLICATION of plant food to pole beans after the first picking will increase their vigor and prolong the harvesting season.

4. WHEN CAULIFLOWER heads or "buttons" begin to form they should be given protection from the weather and light by tying the long leaves together over the heads. Go over the plants two or three times at weekly intervals since they reach cutting stage at different times. Late planted cauliflower (set out in June) is more successful than spring plantings.

5. TOMATOES root along their stems as well as at the end of their vines. Therefore plantings should be deep. If stems are no more than a foot in length they may merely be set in a deep hole. If they are more spindly, make a shallow trench and lay the stems carefully in the trench.

6. GROW VEGETABLES FAST. The first objective of vegetable garden technique is to keep the vegetables growing without interruption. When growth is interrupted by any cause the character of the vegetable changes. The change may not be evident in color; but is always evident in size and usually by the toughness of fiber. Sometimes flavor is noticeably changed. Leaf lettuce when it grows slowly becomes tough and bitter.

7. WHEN ONION SETS which were planted early and left to mature begin to reach good size, some may send up seed stalks. Nothing can be done to stop it and the onion will grow no larger, so you might as well pull such plants and use the onions at their present size.

8. SWISS CHARD is much easier to grow than spinach and makes equally good greens if allowed to grow no more than seven or eight inches high.

DDT vs. Sodworm: Lawn Protection

Every year young lawns are badly damaged by sodworms. Sodworms attack the crown and growing points of the grass below mowing level.

According to Farm Advisor A. M. Goff, Dr. R. M. Bohard of the University of California College of Agriculture advises the use of Chlordane or DDT against sodworms, and recommends one pound of insecticide be used for each thousand square feet of lawn. Complete instructions for treating lawns for sodworms may be obtained from your Agricultural Extension Service at Cowell.

Spray Pear Trees After the Harvest

Contra Costa growers now picking Bartlett pears were given further tips today on spraying after the harvest.

Spray Bartlett pear trees for pear bud mite immediately after the crop is harvested, recommends Milton R. Bell, farm advisor for the University of California Agricultural Extension Service.

Bell, of the Contra Costa office of the service, at Cowell suggests a spray consisting of two gallons liquid lime-sulphur solution, four pounds wettable sulfur, and enough water to make 100 gallons.

Apply the spray on cooler days so as not to injure the leaves. Use at least 300 pounds pressure per square inch.

The timing of the spray is important since the mites are usually out of reach under the bud scales by October.

This spray also controls late European red mites and two-spotted mites.

UC Entomologists Map War on Flies

House flies have developed resistance not only to DDT, but also to other insecticides such as benzene hexachloride and lindane, which have been substituted for DDT, find Drs. R. B. March and R. L. Metcalf, entomologists in the experiment station on the Riverside campus of the University of California. A complete fly control program is more necessary than ever in order to achieve effective control.

The entomologists advise every possible means of sanitation for control of house flies, especially disposal of manure and other materials to which flies are attracted and in which they breed.

INSECTICIDES Insecticides should consist of residual applications of benzene hexachloride and lindane formulations where DDT-resistance has occurred in flies.

For flies resistant to both DDT and benzene hexachloride, space sprays or aerosols should be applied. These sprays should contain 0.1% pyrethrins, or the equivalent of pyrethrins and an activator such as piperonyl butoxide. Or they may contain 2.5% of an organic thiocyanate such as isobornyl thiocyanate or butoxy-beta-thiocyanate diethyl ether in an odorless petroleum distillate.

LIVESTOCK Fly-repellant materials, such as activated pyrethrum formulations or polypropylene glycols should be applied to livestock as required.

Control methods should be supplemented with mechanical and baited traps and poisoned attractants.

Finally, flies should be mechanically excluded from restricted areas with proper screening where practicable.

This Is Time for Canning, Freezing

It's canning and freezing time in Contra Costa County. Home Advisor Mary Lerche advises the use of approved methods as given in the bulletins of the University of California.

The bulletins on Home Canning and Home Freezing are available free upon request by writing to the Agricultural Extension Service at Cowell.

The Home Canning Bulletin gives complete directions for using the boiling bath methods for canning fruits and tomatoes and also the pressure cooker method for canning vegetables. Jars filled with non-acid vegetables should be exhausted to drive out the air before the food is processed. Directions for exhausting the jars are given in the bulletin, with the time tables.

The Home Freezing Bulletin gives complete directions for packaging the foods, the blanching process, and recommended varieties of fruits and vegetables which are best suited for freezing.

Write to the Agricultural Extension Service Office at Cowell for your bulletins on Home Canning and Home Freezing.

SAY GOODBY, THEN GO

Just how much fuel is wasted by the practice of starting the engine and then beginning a conversation is difficult to calculate, but it certainly represents a tremendous total of lost gasoline, according to the National Automobile Club. The book of etiquette claims that when a guest has reached the point of holding the knob of the door handle he ought to make the farewell as brief as possible and be on his way. In motoring it's not only a matter of etiquette, but a saving of gas to make au revoir and cranking simultaneous.

Problem of Deer Herd Control Is Studied

ORINDA SUN PAGE 9
FRIDAY, AUGUST 11, 1950

Reduction of deer to the carrying capacity of the range is a term California sportsmen are likely to hear a lot more about in the future.

Behind that phrase are implications of controlled doe shooting in some areas and a radically new concept of deer management and harvesting. But, according to University of California biologists, the much-needed changes in policy are new only in California — one of the few "holdout" states, and one in which the new look management is sadly needed.

NOT NEW IDEA

A. Starker Leopold, who heads a three-year survey conducted by the University with the aid of Federal wildlife restoration funds and the California Division of Fish and Game, says that every other western state now permits some type of deer herd control.

Most eastern states with any sort of deer populations long ago consigned doe protection laws to the same waste baskets holding the Volstead Act, male suffrage, and the 10-mile-an-hour horseless carriage speed law.

Eliminate SOME existing deer refuges; permit controlled doe shooting in SOME sections; discard SOME present management practices; and the result in California will be the same as in other states with a deer problem: more deer for hunters without jeopardizing the basic population or high annual kill.

Hunters, farmer, conservationists and stockmen have discussed the "radical" proposals with varying degrees of enthusiasm. Most of them, after reading Leopold's detailed report, have been converted to the side of deer herd control.

HERE'S THE REPORT

Briefly, the Leopold report says: There are some sections of California where deer populations are damaging their range — permanently — by overgrazing. These hungry deer often raid nearby farm crops as a substitute for their natural food. They become weak and diseased, a pushover for predatory animals, and a poor bag for the sportsman.

The old California buck law, in combination with predator control, the establishment of refuges, and strict law enforcement, has served its purpose: the building up of the State's once-dwindling deer herds.

TOO MANY DEER

But the 40 year old management practices have created problems. There are now too many deer. Even conservative estimates place the current population at between 750,000 and 1,000,000 head. This is probably more deer than roamed the State before the arrival of the white man.

With the ever-increasing threat of future disaster for many deer — to say nothing of decreased bags for the State's 305,000 deer hunters

California fish and game commissioners last month took the deer problem by the horns and went on record in favor of some of the Leopold proposals.

15-POINT PLAN

In adopting a 15-point management plan, the conservation body cleared the way for inauguration of up-to-date practices which are expected to keep deer hunting a contender for the title of the State's most popular outdoor participation sport.

Simply stated, the new deer policy will provide for maintenance of a favorable balance between deer populations and the amount of available forage food on a local basis.

Sportsmen, landowners, foresters and just plain citizens will have their say before any of the new management tools are applied. Public meetings will be held in the problem areas and the voice of local opinion will be considered before final regulations are adopted.

Art Group to Display Works in Special Setting at Walnut Festival This Year

In a setting specially constructed, the Diablo Art Association will exhibit their works in the Walnut Festival this year.

Interest will be stimulated by a cash prize for the best work in the show. Entry blanks have been distributed among the members of each group and additional blanks may be obtained from Mrs. Lillian Lytle, at Lytle Company on Main and Davis Streets, Walnut Creek, or Mrs. Eleanor Condon, at her studio, 1501 Boulevard Way, Saranap. These are collection stations for late entries, as well as at the Craft Shop for the convenience of those in the Lafayette and Orinda area.

Entries must be turned in by August 31. All talent in the association will have an opportunity to exhibit their work in this section of the art show.

NAME JUDGES

The jury of selection will consist of Chiura Obata, well known and popular professor of art at the University of California, and Hamilton Wolf, recent guest speaker of the association, and professor of art at the College of Arts and Crafts.

At the regular meeting of the association, held the fourth Tuesday of each month, the last report on incorporating was favorable, with details arranged by the chairman of the committee, Edmund Barnett of Lafayette.

Mrs. Condon, executive secretary, announced a newly organized monthly bulletin to be published with Mrs. Edith Dinkin as editor-in-chief.

Sylvia Fein, art instructor in her own field and active member, will conduct classes at Acalanes Union High for beginning and advanced students. The main subject will be new developments on "Practice and Principals in Art." Miss Fein was guest speaker at a recent Workshop Painters' meeting with a roundtable discussion on techniques.

APPOINT DINKIN

The meeting closed with the appointment of Leon Dinkin of Saranap as the representative for the association in the newly acquired membership in the Outdoor Art Shows Incorporated.

By popular request, Chiura Obata, Japanese artist, has consented to conduct classes every Monday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 at the Craft Shop in Lafayette, according to Kay Winter, chairman of the painters' section.

FHA POSITIONS

Examinations have been announced by the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Federal Housing Administration, 12th Civil Service Region, to fill existing and future vacancies for appraiser, construction examiner, construction inspector and mortgage credit examiner. Application forms must be received not later than the close of business on August 21 at Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Federal Housing Administration, 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco 5.

MRS. AL COOPER, who has been hospitalized at the County Hospital for some time, arrived home last Friday for a few days.

MRS. HARRY RICE and MRS. CURLY BUSAN left Canyon Saturday and motored to Visalia, where they met Mrs. Rice's daughter, Mary, who is returning from her vacation.

ALLEN DUNHAM returned home Tuesday from the Y.M.C.A. camp near Eureka, where he enjoyed a two-week stay.

Guests at the BILL BLASKOVICH home in Canyon Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Roholt and children of Albany.

SHIRLEY KNIPE and LOIS MCKENZIE, who are members of the C.A.P. Diablo Flight District, are leaving Canyon Saturday for a training encampment. Their destination is as yet unknown. Prior to the Korean crisis, they had planned to go to Hawaii.

Canyon Girl Hurt In Car Accident

Two Canyon teen-agers escaped serious injury Sunday evening near Canyon when the car in which they were riding was forced off the road by an unidentified green sedan. Miss Carlein Scholin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Scholin, received severe facial lacerations which required numerous stitches. She was treated at a hospital and then released. Kenny Greene, driver, was not injured but considerable damage was done to the grille of his car.

Birthday Parties Keep on Whirling For Orinda Kids

Birthdays are one thing there's no shortage of, at least as far as the youngsters of Orinda are concerned. Recent checking on this situation in the community discloses the following events:

DIANE DORR
Diane Dorr was five years old July 14, but she waited until August 3 to celebrate because that was the earliest Daddy could come down from Salem to be with her. Thirty-three of Diane's friends joined her in a luncheon on the lawn, the highlight of which was a merry-go-round cake. Mrs. John Dorr entertained the mothers with lunch and they, too, had a good time.

WENDY ALLEN
Little Wendy Allen, just four years old, was most excited about her birthday party Monday. Sister Julie, cousin Janice, Peter Lamb, Kyle Ickes, Andrea Ickes, Ann-Berit Henriksen and Elaine Henriksen were her guests.

ORTLAND TWINS
The Ortland twins invited their Cub Pack for a luncheon and show to celebrate their 10th birthday. They saw "Penrod and Sam," and all agreed it was a wonderful afternoon.

CORY LOWTHER
Cory Lowther celebrated his fifth birthday with relatives and neighborhood children joining him in an outdoor party Saturday, July 29. Cake and ice cream, followed by games on the terrace, made it a big day for Cory.

CHECK HOSE CLAMPS

An occasional inspection of your car's radiator hose clamps to make sure they are tight is recommended by the California State Automobile Association. A slight leak resulting in loss of water from the cooling system may cause the motor to overheat. These leaks are more apt to occur while the motor is running, with resultant water pressure against hose connections.

Drive carefully—the life you save may be your own.
